Report on International Mother Language Day Observation

Date: 21-02-2026

On February 21, 2026, Pandit Deendayal Upadhyaya Aadrsha Mahavidyalaya, Dalgaon, celebrated International Mother Language Day with great enthusiasm. Organized by the Department of Assamese in collaboration with IQAC, PDUAM, Dalgaon, the event was held at Hall-4 to promote awareness and appreciation of mother languages, ensuring their continuity and preservation. The programme began with Dr. Tamrapali Rajkonwar, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Assamese, explaining the significance of the event. This was followed by a warm welcome speech by Mrs. Bhusita Medhi, HoD, Dept. of Assamese. Mr. Borun Kathar, Coordinator of IQAC, PDUAM, Dalgaon, delivered a thought-provoking lecture emphasizing the importance of embracing one's mother tongue. He highlighted that children learn more quickly and effectively when taught in their native language, striking a chord with the students. The Assamese department also organized competitions, including spelling bee, conducted by Dr. Sima Bhuyan, Asst. Prof. Dept. of Assamese. The event, attended by 2nd, 4th, and 6th semester students, concluded on a high note, reaffirming the college's commitment to preserving and promoting linguistic and cultural heritage.

Some snapshots of the event are given below.
